MISSION & GOALS

Mission

The mission of the International Internet Preservation Consortium (IIPC) is to acquire, preserve and make accessible knowledge and information from the Internet for future generations everywhere, promoting global exchange and international relations.

Goals

To achieve its mission, the IIPC is working to accomplish the following goals:

- To enable the collection of a rich body of Internet content from around the world to be preserved in a way that it can be archived, secured and accessed over time.
- To foster the development and use of common tools, techniques and standards that enable the creation of international archives.
- To encourage and support national libraries, archives and research organisations everywhere to address Internet archiving and preservation.

IIPC Olympics Collections
(4550+ seeds in total, 23TB of data)

Collaborative collections

Proposal

- Announced at 2014 General Assembly in Paris
- Make IIPC collecting more robust and sustainable
- Purchase Archive-It subscription?
- Proposal was popular with members
- Need to consider risks, evaluate all vendor options

Collaborative collections

Benefits

- Access
- Agility
- Collaboration (more institutions, between GAs)
- Promotion/Advocacy
- Researcher engagement

Varying legal environments

- Able to archive national domains and provide online access
  - National and University Library of Iceland
  - National Library Board Singapore
  - Portuguese Web Archive
- Have legal deposit for domain harvesting, but no copyright exception to provide online access without site owner permission
  - Bibliotheque nationale de France
  - British Library
  - National Library of the Czech Republic
- No legal deposit requirement or explicit copyright exception for web archiving, so permission-based harvesting and online access
  - Columbia University
  - Koninklijke Bibliotheek
  - National Library of Australia

Collaborative collections

Risks

- Legal
- Sustainability of IIPC project funding
- Long-term preservation
- Competition with or duplication of existing member collections

Collaborative collections
Structure and vendor choice

IIPC Content Development Group

- Working group for shaping, harvesting, describing collections
- Roles include: Leader(s); Collection administrator; Lead curator(s); Contributing curator(s)
- CDG identified service requirements (including data capture, descriptive metadata, access, preservation, cost) and nine services were considered
- Archive-It selected (metadata, common platforms, all-inclusive costs including storage and access)
- Archive-It subscription effective April 2015. Crawl budget of 50,000,000 documents and 5TB

Collection topic criteria

- Of high interest to IIPC members
- Does not map to any one member's responsibility or mandate
- Adds research value via broader perspective
- Transnational in scope, but not necessarily "global"

World War I Centenary Commemoration collection

- Several members planning WWI collections (BnF, BL, LC, NLA, LAC)
- No member has responsibility for comprehensive multinational collection
- IIPC joint collection could be duplicative but improves access and adds research value via broader perspective
- CDG now consolidating seed lists from these member collections and other interested members

"Du Pusling-Land, som hygger dig i Smug, mens hele Verden brænder om din Vugge"

Fra Jeppe Aakjærs digt "Historiens Sang", 1916

I fire år rasede 1. verdenskrig uden for Danmarks grænser. Selvom Danmark var neutral og ikke deltog i krigen, fik krigen alligevel stor betydning for den danske befolkning. Danskerne måtte forberede sig på, at angrebet kunne komme, og alle måtte være med til at sikre, at Danmark kunne klare sig igennem krisetiden. Der var dog stor uenighed om, hvordan landet bedst muligt skulle klare den svære neutrale balancegang.

"Hverdagsliv i krigens skygge" er beregnet til undervisning på ungdomsuddannelser. Ved at undersøge de historiske kilder på disse sider, kan du blive klogere på de skygger, krigen kastede ind over

Women's Land Army

The Women's Land Army (WLA) began during World War 1 when many men left farming to fight in the trenches. Women took over in the fields to help grow the food the country needed. Food couldn't be imported and we needed to be self-sufficient. When Britain went to war again in 1939 the Land Army was called up a second time. By 1944 there were 80,000 women working on farms all across the country.

They did every kind of farm work from driving tractors to milking cows and harvesting wheat. They also worked in the forests cutting down trees because wood was also in very short supply. Despite their efforts and the vital part they played in the war, the WLA were not officially recognised for their work until 2008 when they were issued with a badge from DEFRA, the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs.

International Cooperation Organizations collection

- Value of an ongoing thematic collection that resonates with IIPC's mission of promoting global exchange and international relations
- Makes more sense for IIPC to build collection of international cooperation organization websites than it would for individual members
- Can be started with comprehensive collection of the small but important top level domain ".int"
- Small collection of international organizations allows for experimenting with rich metadata, linked data

.int

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The domain name int is a sponsored top-level domain (sTLD) in the Domain Name System of the Internet. Its name is derived from the word international, characterizing its use for international organizations and treaty-related purposes.[1] The first use of this domain was by NATO, which had previously been assigned the top-level domain nato.

According to Internet Assigned Numbers Authority (IANA) policy, based on RFC 1591, the sTLD int is reserved for international treaty-based organisations, United Nations agencies, and organisations or entities having Observer status at the UN.[2] int is considered to have the strictest application policies of all TLDs, as it implies that the holder is a subject of international law. For this reason, the application procedure requires the applicant to provide evidence that it is indeed treaty-based by providing a United Nations treaty registration number and that it has independent legal status.
