

Hosted by the Columbia University Libraries with funding from The Shelley & Donald Rubin Foundation

TIBETAN STUDIES AND THE SOCIAL SCIENCES: DATA, TOOLS, MAPS AND ARCHIVES

FEBRUARY 6 – 7, 2009

A hands-on workshop for exploring library resources in New York City. Sessions will be held at Columbia University, the Rubin Museum of Art, and the Latse Contemporary Tibetan Cultural Library.

Speakers will address models for research in Sociology, Economics, Anthropology, as well as GIS applications.

Geoff Childs
Washington University in St. Louis

Andrew Fischer
Institute of Social Studies (The Hague)

Karl Ryavec
University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point

Tsering Wangyal Shawa
Princeton University

Emily T. Yeh
University of Colorado at Boulder

Photo by Gray Tuttle

Photo by Andrew Fischer

Photo by Andrew Fischer

And participants from Columbia University:

Robert Barnett
Jeremiah Trinidad-Christensen
Gray Tuttle

Register at www.columbia.edu/cu/lweb/indiv/eastasian/Tibetan/ by January 20, 2009. Travel grants for undergraduate attendees available. Contact Luran Hartley (lh2112@columbia.edu).